

Quality Policy Statement

Vent-Axia provides ventilation, heating and air conditioning products and systems for the domestic, commercial and industrial markets.

The company recognises that its customers expect products, activities and services to be conducted to a distinguished level of quality.

It's the company's belief that managing its process risks and opportunities of the activities is an integral part of good management practice and responsible management strategy.

The company quality policy is supported by an integrated environmental and quality management system designed to achieve continual improvement. The company has committed to ensuring:

- Company wide use of the process approach.
- Compliance with all relevant legislation and other compliance obligations.
- Responsible procurement of materials, people, equipment and services in order to minimise risks.
- Allocation of appropriate quality objectives and resources to meeting our quality commitments.
- Protection of the environment, prevention of pollution and reduction in consumables.

The effectiveness and suitability of the company's quality policy will be reviewed at the management review or following organisational changes, major incidents, new legislations or audit recommendations. Any amendments will be brought to the notice of all employees. The policy statement will be displayed prominently at all premises and will be made available to all interested parties upon request.

The company welcomes positive contributions from all employees and requests that all activities are carried out in accordance with appropriate training or instructions.
